

Coral House

Grace Bay Beach

Coral House is an architectural masterpiece, influenced by the work of legendary theatrical designer, Oliver Messel and recalling the 18th century tradition of island plantation estates. The home has caught the attention of the international media as well as fans of Messel who admire how it exudes the charm and character of the Turks and Caicos. Coral House is spectacular to look at, and with its location, décor, amenities and layout, it is also extraordinary to live in.
