Grace Bay Beach

Hawksbill Villa is a transitional contemporary Caribbean estate home. Varied roof lines and a creative building layout, reduce the mass of the building, despite its size. Natural materials have been used throughout the property and it is this palate of different woods and stones that soften the overall ambience bringing a warmth to the property. Walnut treads cantilever from an indigenous, split-faced stone wall to form a dramatic staircase and a focal element from the Great Room. A visitor experiences a sense of place, beautiful Caribbean colors and light throughout the home by the use of generous openings.
